

Eccleshill Road Runners Club Code of Conduct

The club will:

- adopt national policies and codes of good practice in relation to athlete welfare.
- ensure that club officers and volunteers always act responsibly and set an example to younger members.
- appoint a designated Welfare Officer, who is provided with appropriate training and periodic updating, to act as a first port of call in cases of concern about athlete welfare.
- liaise appropriately with other key persons, including parents/persons with parental responsibility, officials & coaches to ensure that good practice is followed in maintaining athletes' welfare
- carry out their duty of care within relevant legislation and government guidance.

Date: March 2010